THE CONCLUSION

Correct the Transition Word Mistakes
Transition words are used in a sentence to connect two ideas. They join clauses or sentences together to show a difference in a connection. Example 1: We arrived late at the movie, so we missed the first thirty minutes. John's a nervous wreck. It takes him time to relax at the movie. Example 2: We arrived late at the movie, however we missed the first thirty minutes. Heater is the transition word in the second example, but doesn't make sense in it is used in the sentence. Heater is a transition word that shows contrast, yet there is no contrast to be made. Each clause on its own hangs fine on its own. A better sentence with however would be: Example 3: We left early to go to the movie, however, we still missed the first thirty minutes. In Example 3, however shows the contrast between leaving early and still missing the beginning of the movie. Below are sentences with related transition words. Cross out the incorrect transition words and write a better one in the space below. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The record set in 1954, evenso, Justin did not record in 1954.</li> <li>The book was interesting, so a week it was hard to read.</li> <li>Gracie finished his chess early, so he had time to play football.</li> <li>Smith's house is beautiful, so it's well built.</li> <li>The nation passed the law to so allow the dock workers to build the cargo.</li> <li>He never had a cold, however, John's family caught the bug.</li> <li>Orange are good for you, so because, they are full of vitamin C.</li> <li>The seat was left on the bus, so usually, most of the group had to wait for the next one.</li> </ol>
